Highways & Byways in East Anglia - Jos. Pennell

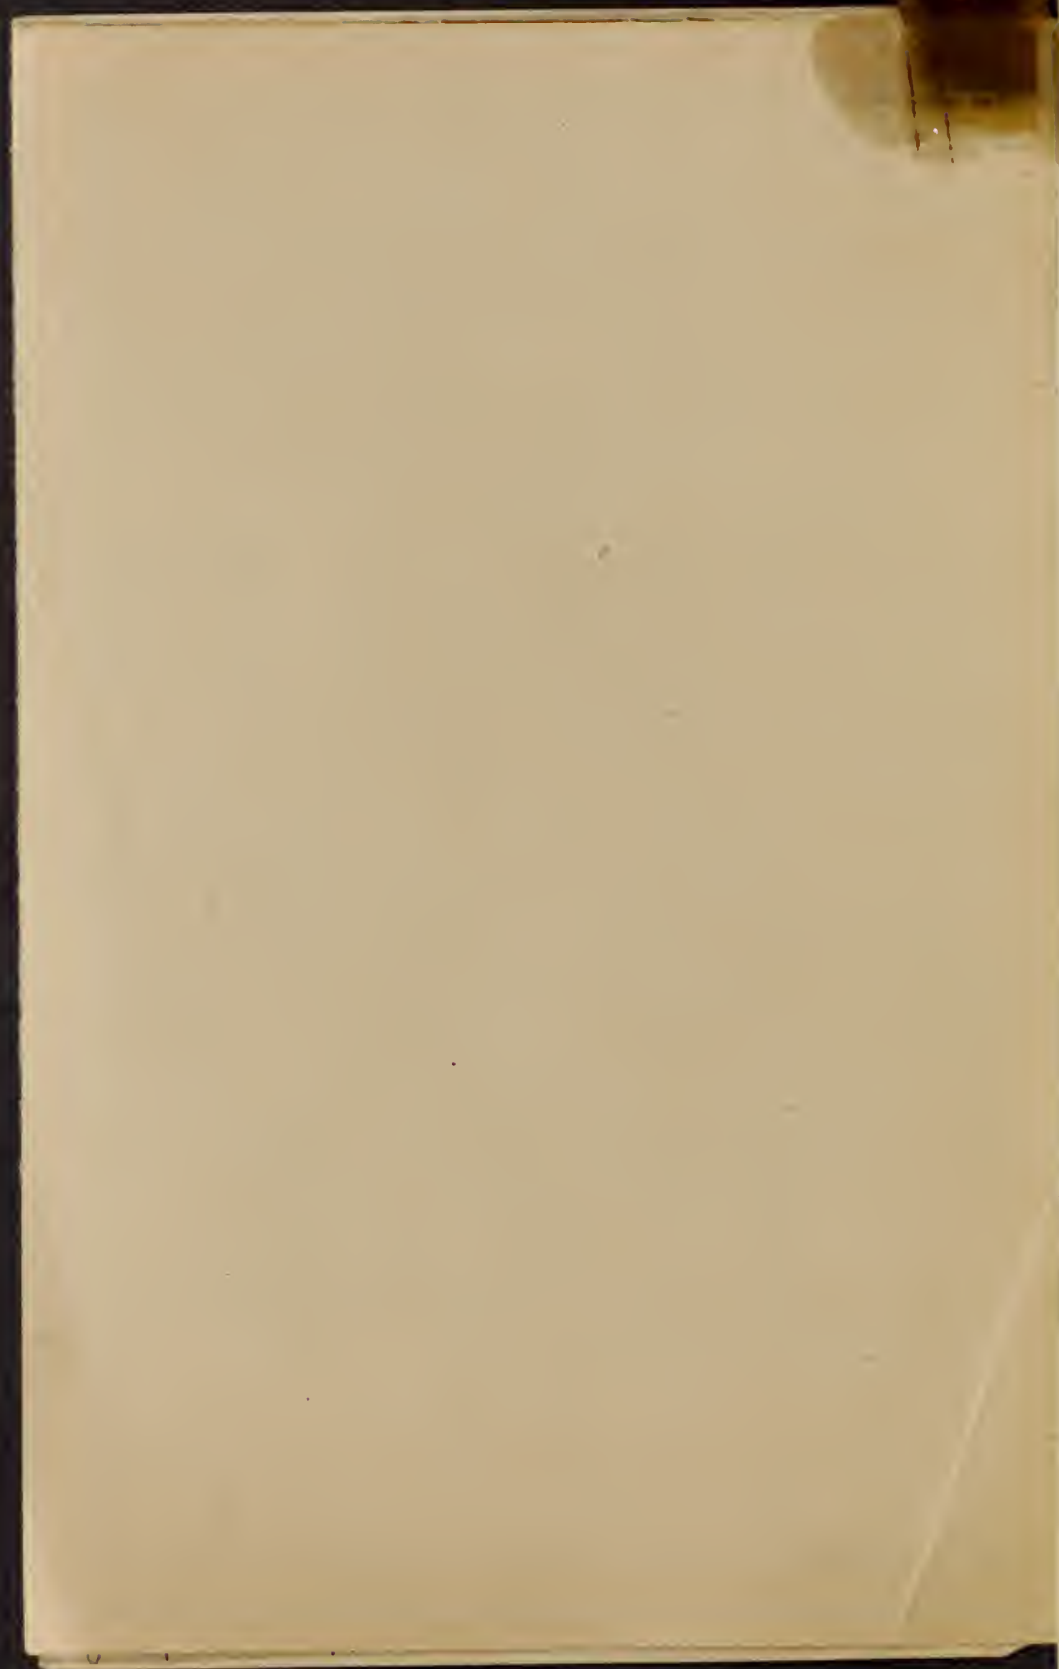

253 The villages around Sandringham are noted for their interesting churches. Those of Dersingham & Snettisham are especially remarkable; while that of Heaslam, a hamlet about two miles from Hunstanton, is notable because it contains several monuments to the Rolles, who have held the manor for several centuries. A member of this family married Princess Pocahontas, the Virginia princess who visited England & appeared at the Court of James I. The story of this unfortunate princess has often been told; but I do not remember ever having seen attention drawn to the fact that East Anglians were intimately concerned in the shaping of her destiny.

Nearly three hundred years ago, when love of adventure and greed of gain caused the thoughts of a large number of Englishmen to turn towards the new colony of Virginia, Henry Spelman (who was a Norfolk man), was one of a party of emigrants who set sail for the New World. From his own account of his experiences it appears that he arrived at Jamestown in October, 1609, and a few days later was made prisoner by the Potomac Indians. It was his own belief that he was sold to his captors by Captain John Smith, the Governor of Jamestown, who was anxious that some Englishman of his acquaintance should learn the red men's language; but as Spelman was little more than fourteen years old at the time it is not unlikely that he misunderstood the Governor's motives in leaving him in the Indians' hands. At any rate, he had no difficulty in escaping to Jamestown; and almost immediately afterwards he voluntarily went, with two companions, to live in the chief Powhatan's wigwams. There, when his life was threatened, he found a guardian angel in the beautiful Indian maiden, Pocahontas, daughter of Powhatan. This princess also seems to have protected Captain John Smith, who, on his return to England, affirmed that she had often saved his life. East. She apparently found especial favour in her eyes. Spelman was a Norfolk man; Captain John Smith was born in Lincolnshire; and John Rolfe, who, in 1613, became her husband, she being then eighteen years of age, was a native of the village of Heacham.

This John Rolfe had accompanied Sir Thomas Dale to Virginia subsequent to the latter's appointment to the governorship of the colony. Soon after his arrival Pocahontas was captured by the English, brought to Jamestown, and there held hostage for certain Englishmen who were prisoners in her father's hands. Her beauty attracted the young emigrant, who, on finding, as had Smith & Spelman, she had a tender spot in her heart for Englishmen — more particularly East Anglians — applied to the governor for permission to make her his wife. This request was at once granted, young Rolfe being a favourite with the Governor, who may also have hoped to bring about more friendly relations between the white & red men by the alliance; and the chief Powhatan's consent having been obtained the marriage took place at Jamestown. There, Rolfe and his "royal" wife remained three years, and then set sail for England, where, their story having preceded them, they found themselves the centre of considerable interest — in fact, the "lions" of a London season. Pocahontas might well, had her life been spared, have become a court favourite. She was presented to King James and his Queen, and soon learnt to adapt herself to the conditions of London society; while her little son, who inherited his mother's grace & beauty, was greatly admired. But it was soon noticed that her health was failing, and her husband at once determined to take her back to her native woods. The variability of the English climate it accounted for her weakness; but among those persons for whom the story of her life had a fascination were some who attributed her decline to the shock she received at ~~unexpectedly~~ meeting Captain John Smith, to whom, rumour would have it, she had given her heart before she met John Rolfe, and whom she believed to be dead. Whatever may have been the cause of her illness, she was fated never again to set foot on her native soil. She died on board ^{the} ship which was to have carried her back to America, on the eve of its sailing. She was buried in a Gravesend church which has long been burnt down; and her husband went back to Virginia alone, leaving his little son to be educated by a relative in England. Some years later the son followed his father to America, where he married, and, when he died, left an only daughter. From her several well-known American families claim descent, and are proud of the strain of Indian blood derived from Powhatan's lovely daughter. Whether Pocahontas spent much, or any, of her brief life in England at her husband's ancestral home by the grey North Sea, I cannot say; but her marriage has inseparably associated her with Heacham, where the Rolfes are still in possession of their ancient manor. It is sad to think that when she died her body was not laid to rest in the shadow and silence of her native woods, or, at least, among her husband's people in the little Norfolk church by the sea.

Dr H C Burleigh

Dear Dr Burleigh:
I have been asked by my mother Mrs John Miller of Dunbar Falls, Ont to reply to your letter which she received early this month the first letter writing rather tedious. I shall try to answer as many of your questions as I can.

Since mother found your letter written to her in 1940 and the reply you sent to her last December when she wrote to you I have done a very extensive and detailed research of the Jaeger family history. After reading your letter to mother with the old Jones and the one written last December I am filled with great interest and do trust I shall be able to get additional data regarding the early families.

In June, I undertook to type out a complete set of the families so far as I have been able to find out only I since receive from a rather distant cousin in Central Illinois has a great deal more details regarding Christ Wurgot's descendants.

So early in August I set out to do a revised family history and then holidays ~~came~~ came along and since getting back to work the beginning of this month I have not been able to settle down to continue the revision.
However I am enclosing the first seven pages of this most revision and if you are further interested
I shall be glad to send you a copy of the balance as soon as I get it completed.

In my copy I did in June I have twelve full pages but with all this additional information I received
I expect there will be twenty pages or more when I complete it. The families are carried down five generations and in some cases I believe six generations
from Dr. Taylor.

I was greatly helped last winter by localing at the Reference Library the book mentioned in your letter namely "The Medical Profession of Upper Canada", containing the history of Dr. Taylor's life.

I am also enclosing the data
I was able to decipher of Mr Taylor foundstone together with several other foundstones of relations buried at Randall's cemetery, Ryegton Township, Barry Land District.

I have copies of several old pictures
including one of Mr Taylor, Walford Taylor - mother's father, a family picture of mother's family taken when she was about six years of age.

Mother has very little knowledge of her grandmother Taylor family about all she knows that she was of Pennsylvania Dutch background
she has heard her Aunt Margaret tell how her mother (Mrs (or) Taylor) was frightened of the Indians and how the family used to go up on the roof of the house for safety. Where this took place she has no idea of.

She has never heard the story of her grandmother's father James Randolph being killed by a falling tree.

I shall look forward to hearing from you when you have time to write.
I should be happy if any details you might be able to supply, and with yours sincerely, Cuth Miller

Address

Mrs. J. W. Millar.

Burk's Falls Feb. 8, 1940

Dr. Burleigh,
Bath, Ont.

Dear Mr. Burleigh: I received your letter last week.

Indeed I was very much surprised to hear from a cousin that I had never known. I am sure I shall be glad to hear more about our relationship.

I have written the questions which you enclosed, to George Taylor residing on a farm ten miles from town to ask him to help to answer those questions. As yet I have not heard from him.

Dr. Taylor was my grandfather.

He was a-hundred years three months and some days old when he died.

I was a child about nine years old. That was about fifty years ago.

My father was Walford Taylor and George Taylor of whom I mentioned is the son of William Taylor, my father's brother.

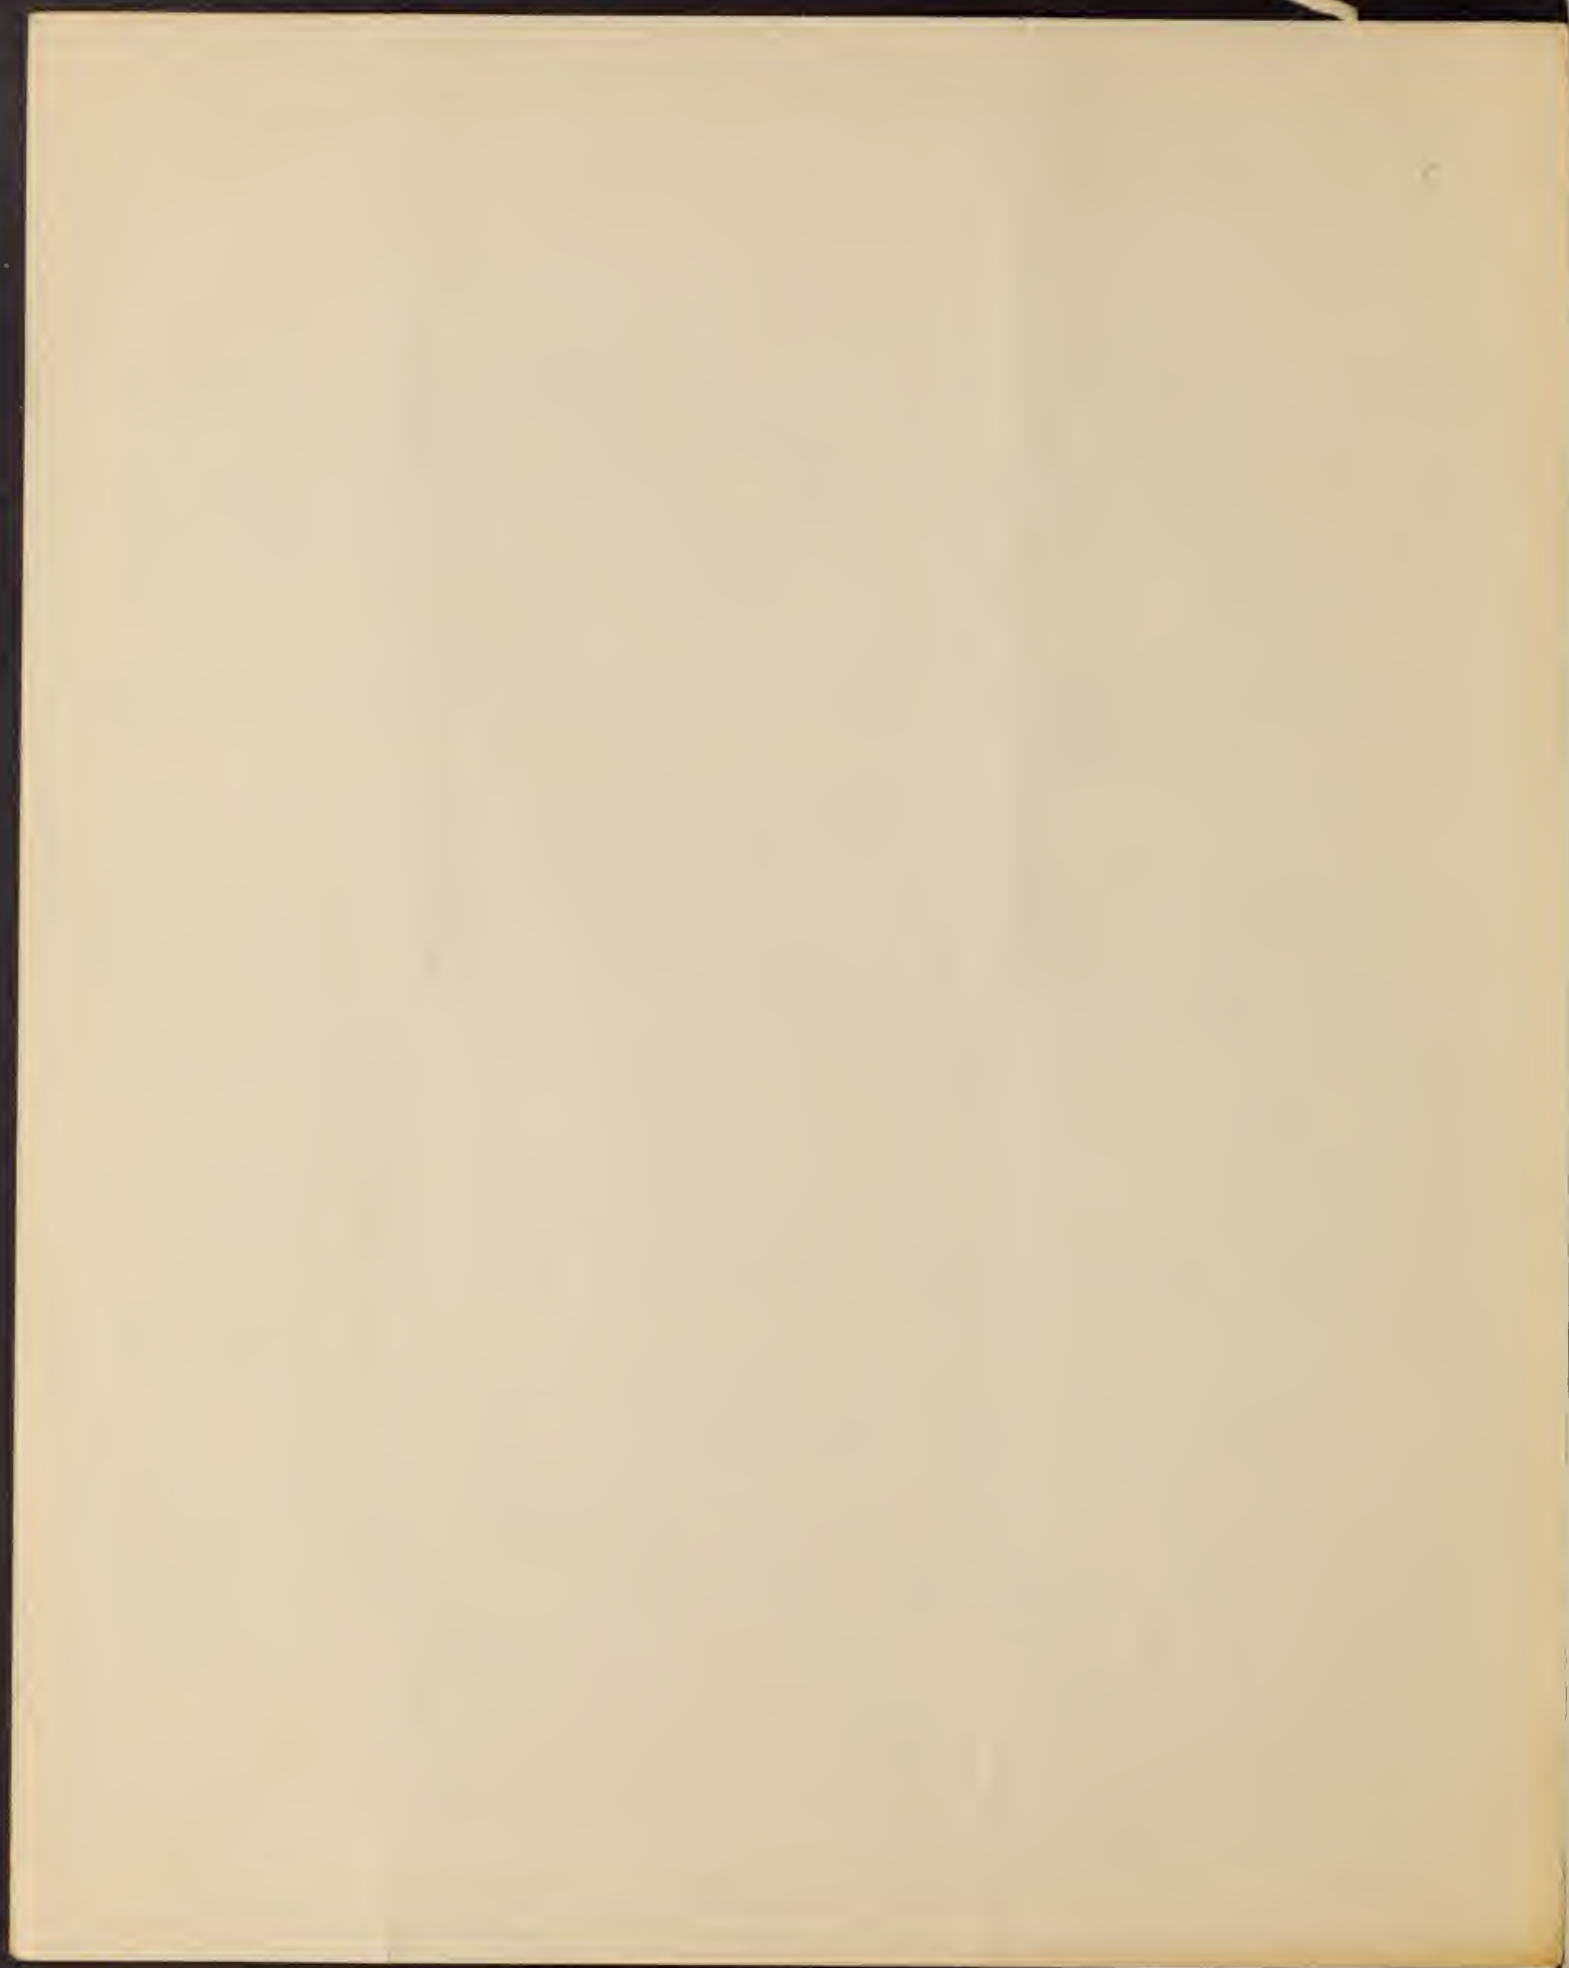

Both my father and Uncle William are dead.

I cannot tell you about — Grandma Taylor any more than she died suddenly — a heart-attack — probably twelve or thirteen years before Grandpa's death.

But if I can get the answers from George I will send them to you.

I am the youngest in our family. Two others are still living, one in B.C. and my brother in Sask. But I shall surely write and tell them. I know they will be glad to hear about you.

I hope to hear from you again soon. I am
Your Cousin,
Ida Miller.

Dear Mr Burleigh: I enclose a letter I recd from the Lincoln Co. Hist. Soc. I thought it might interest you. Can you add anything to it. I can't connect them to my David Randall of Odessa. Please return this letter to me. The other day I found an old note I made years ago. Can you identify this one — Charles Randall died in Bath, Ont. 1842, age 23 years (Anglican).

The Robt. Randall of Rochester you wrote to several days ago expects to call on you at the end of this month. He is of the Napanee Randolph family in which you are interested. He has data for you.
after you talk to him will you send me a chart of the Boy of Quinte⁽²⁾ Randolph families. While now we don't think the Randall's & Randolphs are the same, perhaps such a chart will prove helpful in years to come.

Will you please do this for me.

I would like to keep in contact with you. If at any time you think that I could help you with any family in the Rochester Library please don't hesitate to write me.

Sincerely,

Howard Randall

Dear Dr. Burkigh:
I enjoyed my visit with you yesterday.
I was much impressed with the museum, Cemetery and Park.

I first found a note on the Randolph I spoke to you about.
Write to -

Mr. Robt. S. Randolph, 16 Coldwater Road, Rochester 11, N.Y.

Mr. Randolph's grandfather was Sidney Randolph, wife Mercy Hutchins of Naperville area. I think it will make more of an impression on him if you write to him first (your title of Dr. will help).

Tell him that I visited

You and told you⁽²⁾ about his Napanee ancestry. Please let me know how you made out.

Sincerely,
Howard Randall

P.S. ask him to tell you about the Indian story in his family (whatever it might be) Good idea not to delay too long, as his mother is along in years.

18.7.1964 wrote to Robert S. Randolph, pointing out that I knew the will of his great grandfather, William, father of Sidney & mentioned children as outlined in will. Also told of reason for William's death.

Asked what he knew of ancestors of his grandfather, of an Indian Race.

FLORA B. STEWART

First woman life underwriter in Toronto, Flora B. Stewart, died Friday, Feb. 10, at Our Lady of Mercy Hospital.

Miss Stewart, born at Harrowsmith of pioneer stock, graduated from Queen's in 1898.
She joined the Sun Life Assurance Company in 1920 and during her first year became a member of the MacAulay Club, the company's standard of success. She remained a member until her death.

In 1925 she was the only woman to receive the Canadian Life Underwriters' designation the year it was inaugurated.

She was a charter member of the Zonta Club of Toronto, Queen's Alumnae, The University Women's Club and Calvin Presbyterian Church.

Predeceased by her brother Charles, she is survived by one nephew Frank of Harrowsmith.

cas secretary, Mrs. M. J. Lawrence; Living Message secretary, Miss A. Stedman; extra cent-a-day secretary, Miss M. Metcalfe; educational secretary, Miss A. Hague; Prayer Partner secretary, Miss J. Comer; thank-offering secretary, Miss R. Hayward; associate member secretary, Miss B. Comer; social convener, Mrs. J. J. Milton.

ST. JAMES' CHURCH YEAR

The February meeting of St. James' Women's Church Year opened with a hymn, scripture reading and prayer led by Mrs. A. Lawrence.

The Year, Mrs. H. Lindsay, welcomed the members and gave a short talk on the meaning of Lent. She reminded all that it was not merely a time of "dieting" but a time for serious thought, soul searching, prayer and seeking a truly Christian way of life.

Miss Annie Twigg explained the work of Miss Olive Fuller, one of our missionaries in India, and there was a display of knitted baby clothing and shawls to be sent to help her in her work. She encouraged all interested persons to help the month of December with this project.

Funeral of J. A. Hughes

The funeral of the late James Albert Hughes was held from his late residence near Harrowsmith on Friday afternoon and was largely attended. Rev. E. B. Sexsmith conducted the service.

The late Mr. Hughes, who had reached the ripe age of eighty-six years, passed away on Jan. 10, after a lingering illness. He lived for many years on the farm where he died, and was held in high esteem by his neighbors and many friends. He is survived by two sons, Elmer V., and John A., of Harrowsmith. There are also four brothers, and one sister — Anson Hughes, Newburgh, Mrs. Frank Walker, John A., Sr., Edgar and George Hughes, all of Harrowsmith and two grand-children, Doris and Floyd Hughes.

The remains were conveyed to Harrowsmith cemetery to await interment in the Spring.

JOHN HUGHES

HARROWSMITH — J o h n Hughes, senior, formerly of Harrowsmith, passed away recently in Toronto at the home of his daughter, Mrs. W. J. Williams, with whom he had resided for the past three years.

He was born on the Hughes homestead near Harrowsmith, a son of the late John Hughes and Mary Ann Randolph. His wife, the former Charlotte Brown, predeceased him many years ago.

In his 100th year, the late Mr.
Hughes had been quite smart for one of his age, possessed good eyesight, and was active till last June.

A farmer by occupation, he retired about 20 years ago. Before going to Toronto, he lived for a time in Kingston. He attended the United Church.

Surviving are three daughters and threa sons, Mrs. W. J. Williams (Mabel) Toronto; Mrs. A.
D. Phelan (Jean) Schenectady, NY; Mrs. R. Smith, (Alberta), Earl, Ottawa, Roy, Peterborough, and Russell of Toronto.

The body was brought to the O. H. Berry funeral home, Sydenham, where service was conducted by Rev. H. A. Bunt of St.
Paul's United Church, Harrow-smith. Interment was in Harrow-smith Cemetery.

Pall-bearers were Milton Shan-gaw, John Shangraw, George Husband, Clyde Ellerbeck, Norman Williams. Dec. 11, 1957

Deadline Draws Near For Korean Armistice

By Robert B. Tuckman

MUNSAN, Korea — (AP) — Only 16 days and Communist negotiators to agree on an armistice by the day time limit they set. The outlook is gloomy.

The negotiations entered their sixth month. Allied demand for immediate talks on exchange of prisoners remains.

The truce sub-committees also are locked in a deadlock over how to enforce an armistice.

The talks have piled up a record of bitter debate, delay, distrust, deadlock and—at varying times since they opened July 10—prolonged suspension.

But some high Allied officers express belief privately that an armistice may yet be reached by Dec. 27. That was the date agreed upon as a deadline when the issue of a buffer zone across Korea was settled Nov. 27.

It took four months to agree on the demilitarized zone which would separate opposing armies. That zone follows the current battle line, most of it north of the 38th parallel.

on the agenda. The negotiators debated where the fire line. The Communists demanded the 38th parallel. The Allies proposed the 38th parallel.

On Aug. 2, the Communists broke off the

Dear Mr Burleigh:-

Just a few lines in reply to your letter to Mother Mrs John Miller, of Burk's Falls, Ont. We were indeed most happy to hear from you and to receive so much more interesting facts regarding the Taylor family history. I shall return the detailed chart of the 'family tree' as soon after the New Year as I can find time to copy it out.

Mother had a slight stroke ~~thats~~ ^{thats} growing weakened in fact I found with it when I arrived home

3

I am more interested than ever in the family history and as soon as I can get a complete revised edition of my findings I shall be happy to send it on to you.
I have quite a few old pictures too. One is of a lady in very old fashioned dress mother thinks she is a relative but isn't sure who she is I am wondering if she might be great-grandmother Taylor (Dr Taylor's wife). The picture is one of the very old style printed on a piece of glass about $3\frac{1}{2} \times 4$ inches. Would you have any picture of any members of that family and if at a later date I were to mail it to you to identify.

from Toronto² for the long weekend I didn't get back to Toronto until the beginning of December It was only a slight stroke but at her age (84) it has taken a lot out of her and left her very weak and frail However her mind is quite clear and she insisted on writing to you after she was able to be out of bed and around a bit. At present she is staying with my sister-in-law at Oro Station, Ont I hope she can content herself to stay there for the winter but so far it is not working out too satisfactory. It is a great worry to me. I shall be spending the Christmas season with her there do you think ^{if} you would have any way of telling who it might be. I would not want to lose the picture.

This is a very busy season and I must not write longer now but trust I shall hear again from you

With the seasons best wishes to you and yours

I remain

Yours sincerely

Your Cousin

Ruth Miller

This is an apple-pie letter in more ways than one-- some lemon in it; hunt for the crumbs! "What can be done when doctors disagree?" Medicine is N't quite as smooth as you would make out-- chemistry, maybe.

I should think that Harriet might be masquerading under H.E. (Harriet Elizabeth?). I once gave you Mrs. Peck's address --or thought I did-- you probably never referred to my visit to your quondam relatives in Odessa again, tho' I remember at the time thinking it would prick your conscience to think you had forgotten them for so long! I got the names from a Mr. Gordon of Odessa, being wished on him by a doctor in Odessa-- a very nice man-- you probably know him. That day on a motor trip I ~~xxxx~~ had only time to see Mr. G. and visit one graveyard. Does n't this prove my point about getting clues from descendants? Of course a name may be kept intact by some in a family; others are too careless or lazy to bother and accept finally what their neighbors say. I am never so much as hinting that your name was Randall in the first place; but I am saying that the original name of Randal was Randolph. Do I sound mad? Well, I'm not-- I don't think for a moment, really, that you are snobbish. A bit perverse, possibly!

Just think how nice I am-- instead of doing my daily stint of typing-- which at my age is getting too much for me, I sit down to write at the machine because I know my handwriting leaves much to be desired. But you have had much to bear up under with me-- and my scribbled outline notes quite worthless! I thought some of them might suggest other things... Just note that Benj Randall vide your last (N.Y) must be the same man as Benj Randolph hunting for the chicken whose head he sought to chop off... ~~sent previously~~

Re the Burleighs-- you left out the Quebec line in which I am interested-- and which you sent me before. Why this ~~xxxx~~ insult? Have n't I a Nathan or Nathaniel Burley Randall there? If I did n't tell you about him take the year off and see.

around Plevna Ont

The Cards and the Randolphs intermarried. Have you found the "allory's yet? I'm sure they could help with proving Elizabeth was an antecedent... But I certainly had better stop right here!

Sincerely yours,
D. Randal Livesay

☐ The information given by you is not sufficient to enable us to make an effective search.

☐ Inquiries concerning the pension application file of the veteran in whom you are interested should be addressed to _____, citing the file number: _____.

☐ We have found pension and/or bounty land warrant application files for several veterans who fit the information furnished by you, and we are unable to distinguish between them. Someone would have to study these files and perhaps other records more closely than we are able to in order to decide which, if any, of the files relates to the veteran in whom you are interested. (See paragraph below.)

It is not possible for the limited staff of the National Archives to prepare summaries of the information in the pension or bounty land warrant application files or to read the documents in a file in order to answer specific questions. In addition to the documents checked above there may be other documents in the file(s) cited or among other records, relating to the veteran in whom you are interested. If you wish to exhaust all possibilities afforded by this Service of obtaining information about him, you may come to the National Archives and examine the relevant records yourself, or you may employ someone to examine them for you. This is in reply to your recent request for information about a soldier or veteran.

If you will fill out the other side of this form and return it to the National Archives and Records Service, Washington 25, D. C., a search will be made in the Pension Files and, if necessary, the Carded Records of military service in United States or Confederate volunteer organizations; and a report of the results of the search will be sent to you. This report, which will be made without cost to you, will tell you whether or not we have been able to find a record of the person in whom you are interested. If a record is found, the report will also tell you the price for which you may have photocopies made of the pertinent documents contained in it. The National Archives is unable, with its limited staff, to prepare summaries of the information contained in the records on soldiers and veterans.

You may not have all the information called for by the form, but the more you are able to give, the greater will be the likelihood of a successful search.

Please use a separate form for each soldier or veteran. Additional forms will be sent to you on request.

Name	State	Organization
------	-------	--------------

No other identifying information is given in the index entry, and we are unable to examine the carded records themselves in order to make a more certain identification. It is possible, therefore, that the soldier named is not the one in whom you are interested.

We can furnish you photocopies of the carded service records of the soldier identified above for a fee of $. If you wish to order them, print your name and address in the box provided for the purpose at the bottom of this form, and return the form to the National Archives and Records Service, Washington 25, D. C., with your check or a money order for the indicated amount made payable to the General Services Administration. The copies will be sent to you under cover of the endorsement at the bottom of this form.

- ☐ We have searched our indexes to the carded records of military service in the United States and Confederate volunteer organizations but have found no entry for the soldier named by you.
- ☐ The information given by you is not sufficient to enable us to make an effective index search.
- ☒ We have found several index entries for soldiers of the name and State given by you. To distinguish between these entries and ascertain which one, if any, is for the man in whom you are interested would require a closer study of the records than we are able to make. (See paragraph below.)

The National Archives, with its limited staff, can make only a limited search of its records for private benefit. In addition to any records cited above we may have other records relating to the soldier in whom you are interested. Dear Dr. Burleigh;

You are a neat fencer! Well, I am not going to bother you hereafter unless you get something and I do the same. I am in your debt as it is, because of the N.Y. stuff.

That man Ruiter was in St. Armand and I've always thought it was Randall and not Reynolds who was on both sides of the fence. Jacob Lantman may be Lampman; if he is, it too may be important since Benj. Reynolds ~~was~~ a Lampman estate near Frelighsburg. was involved in

You are perfectly right about the way to file, etc; but it wd. also be perfectly impossible for me to do it that way because I'm always so breathlessly hurried; I'd rather get the notes and let them simmer. I have all kinds of charts on the three chief names. That was when I had time to copy from Reynolds annuals and correspondents' letters. I'm quite willing to give more inf. if I have it, from outlines sent.

For years I took the Transcript and put my queries in, and starting from scratch-- and being a reporter and later editor -- all you say about "the truth" and exactness and so on is my belief also-- and I have had like experiences with relations. But why did your aunt not know all about the James children? Isn't it possible that George Randall in the tongue of the day being called Rannels she quite disowned him? Think a moment-- do people ever add a consonant, a hard one, living in pioneer days? They do not-- they elide and chop off.

Just say Randolph fast enough-- and it is the original name if you go by authorities-- the 'ph' drops off; sometimes the o remains, sometimes it gets I or e. Most of them were Fitz R. and I have seen the name spelt Fishrandell. Say Randel fast, ~~and~~ or on a slovenly way, and you'll get Rannels. If I can ever get time to delve in to the authorities for this name I'll send them to you, but I doubt if even then I can convince you!

Yes, Daniel Reynolds remains an unknown quantity. I have a good deal on him from descendants. And here again I am ~~amazed~~ amazed at you. They can tell you so much, or the one person can, garbled though it may be, it is a clue. I'm not particularly keen on gathering up the remnants, but sometimes like a certain 'Aunt Fersis of the Haseltine line' she wrote things down and so helped an enquirer. If you could tell me the names of your second cousins in Brockport N.Y. I'd not scorn you for doing so!

My dear Doctor:

Our correspondence is not exactly brisk, but I am waiting till I get all my ~~papers~~ ^{papers together}! And you are ~~waiting~~ ^{waiting} all of ~~them~~ ^{them}! But, in the meantime, I would like to hear about that Benj. Reynolds you were going to seek for me.

I suppose you long ago found James Randolph 2/3/4 in 1790 Census of Argyle town, N. Y. Do you not really think he is the man buried in Odessa? See Adg. Gen. of Washington wrote me, you know, long ago

x 3.2.15
I think it put in between lines or Randall that Benj Randolph a son of John of Fairfield, Conn & Solon, N.Y., was on the 'Oliver Cromwell' & 'came to Odessa in Canada'.

Presumably, from my researches, he is a Randall, but not of my line.
In 1790, there were several Randalls.
One Andrew ^{son} today, maintains his ancestor was a loyalist, but Ottawa had denied this, he is probably Randall.
Benj. Reynolds, with 2 females, was in 1790, with Jonathan, from R. I., & he came to Quebec Prov. with Saul Wilson. Latter was a half-brother of Rabt. Randolph & Randall.
Sincerely, F.R. Live Say

I meant to have sent this - Perhaps I did.

Dear Dr. Burleigh

I shall be glad to hear from you about the various notes I sent since I came home; I suppose you have been too busy to answer before. Today I at last came upon the note re James Randolph and Anne which I found in the Kingston Synod office.

(Bath and Ernestown records)

Apphia, daughter of James and Anna ^{Randolph} ~~had Sarah Anne~~

~~Apphia~~, baptized 1806 and Sarah Anne, baptized the same date. So please let me know what you think of this item. Evidently James is the ancestor sought

As to Cass-Hawley I wrote to the man at Napanee but have not heard anything, but I think it is the family of Josiah for I see that among the monitor children mentioned (re Josiah Cass in Ernestown 1792) were David Hawley who had m ^{Mercy} Cass. She was a widow then.

There is a ^{or Leslie} Lester Cass in Brockville who descends from a Joseph still alive in Winchester; I wrote to the latter, but no reply so far.

In Bath records there is James and Eliz Randolph who had Harriet b 1853 + I think a Sarah Jane.

And Job and Eliz ~~Runde~~ Rundale who had Ruth Ann 1851 (in Frederickston or Delhi) (Church records in Toronto - Ryerson Press)

Perhaps it was the widow of James who came to live with her daughters (not sisters) Maria Taylor?

Dear Dr. Burleigh:

I received your letter of Feb. 18th..

You gave me more data on the Keller and Faraway families than I ever hoped to get for the next ten years.
You can't realize how grateful I am to you. Through the Faraway data you sent me I have been able to trace that family back to the year 1620 in Normandy, France.

I feel terrible to think that as yet I haven't been able to send you anything that has been helpful to you. The reason I haven't answered your letter long ago is because I have been trying to get some Candolph data for you.

In one of your (over) you said that one of your relatives said that it was probable that your Randolph lived in Rome, N.Y. at one time. I wrote them over two weeks ago, but as yet no answer. I enclose data that I received from the N.Y.C. library regarding a James Randolph, but I don't think he was your man. Just as soon as a letter comes from Rome I shall send it on to you.

again I say thanks for your kindness to me. Your time spent on the Keller & Farraway data was not wasted, it was deeply appreciated by me.

Very truly yours
Howard Randall

Dear Dr. Burlingame:
Mrs. Livesay tells me that the data that I sent for on St. James Randolph proved to be of interest to you.
So yet I haven't heard from the Rome, N.Y. Historical Society.

Do you know if a person has to pay the Registrar of Deeds at Napanee, to get a copy of the dates of land grants, and to whom the lots were sold.
I wrote to the Registrar several times asking for data on the Keller & Faraway grants. of course I haven't the money to pay him because I have ⁽²⁾been unemployed for the past year; Perhaps sometime if you are at the Registry Office and can copy the record free of charge you will be kind enough to do it for me.

I hope that soon
I shall be able to send you data that will prove worth while.

Very Truly Yours

Dear Dr. Burleigh:

I am sorry that I haven't been able to get any data for you on your Randolph family of Appleton, N.J.

I am still waiting for a letter from the Grosvenor library of Buffalo regarding your Randolph family.

Has Mrs. Finney sent you any data of value lately?

Could you tell me if there are any protestant cemeteries in Frederickburgh, N.Y., and how to address a letter there.

Is there any one by the name of LARRAWAY or LORROWAY living in Bath or vicinity. Please let me know, because I would like to get in touch with a Larraway family, because some of my ancestors were Larraway's.

FORT EDWARD, N. Y.

January 30, 1940.

Mr. Howard Randall,

Rochester, N.Y.

Dear Sir;

Your letter addressed to the Washington County Historical Society, was handed me by the Postman.

I note what you say with reference to the Randolph family, and the story of the massacre viz; Olive Powell being the only child not killed, is entirely new to me. I presume in those early days roving bands of Indians often massacred entire families, about which we know little or nothing.

Just previous to the Battle of Saratoga, Jane McCrea was massacred here at Fort Edward, and just a day or so previous to her death, the Indians massacred an entire family by the name of Allen, over the hills from here, in the town of Argyle.

There is a booklet called "Reminiscences of the Revolution or LeLoup's Bloody Trail from Salem to Fort Edward" by Arthur Reid, and published in 1859 which tells concerning the Allen family. It is barely possible that your Olive Powell was there and escaped. I have rather hastily scanned the Booklet and fail to find any reference to a child being spared. It is possible that you might find the Booklet in your Library, I am sure you would enjoy reading it, and possibly might find some clue with reference to the family of Randolphs.

Very truly yours,

Susan E. Wade

Origin of Names of Post Offices in Simcoe County

Randolph — Years before the establishment of this post office the village was known as King's Mills, after the owner of a small sawmill. This name was also applied to the portage from the head of Penetanguishene Bay to Nottawasaga Bay traversed by Sir Richard Bonnycastle in 1832 & mentioned in his "History of Travels through Canada". Later the mill was purchased by three brothers Royal, Oscar & John Randolph & the village was given their name which upon the establishment of the post office, was adopted officially.

^{Olive?} Oldest girl died with scarlet fever when 12 yrs old when one girl was born & not yet named

Lucinda died in a fit Grandpa was under a lumber wagon & when called jumped & struck head on reach pin & cut it

Cyrus used to trek stuff from Storms Corners Indians to Slacks. His father had him go back to Storms Corners & Indians used to stay in house but never entered when sticks were crossed over door. Wolves used follow him on his trips. Wolves would chase Grandpa when he went for cows to top of Kingston Hill Old school where Grandpa went to was across from Dexter Sigsworths. Pa went there too for short time

Dr Taylors wife was Ganny Burdicks sister Mary - had a daughter Margaret m. Abe Snyder was living with Will Randolph widow Per great grandmother Randolph (is her name Mrs?) was 95 when she died Pa went to funeral when he was about 5 yrs old. (about 1862) They lived on Jim Hart place just across from Mary Wattams a little further on ^{cut out of teeth} before she died

Will Randolph so Fanny says died by cutting his hand while skinning a horse whose spotted hide he wanted to make into a robe. Granny was called in night to make a poultice but she waited till morning & it was too late

Old Sylvester Burleigh used to cut hay at Hay Bay on Ice & winter stock in hard years. Granny Burleigh used to make feather beds by gathering feathers of wild geese at Hay Bay. Used a slat-like scoop & throw into wagon box. Feathers were dried. The wild geese used to hatch there. Gander broke one man's arm

Grandpa B. was once engaged to Eliza Jackson & sister of Mode Jackson & once when he went to see her on horse back & just as he got to the door a smoothing iron came back & just as he got to the door a smoothing iron came through it. Eliza & mother were quarrelling. He didn't go in. ^{lost because the} govt tried to force Burleigh Martha's Vineyard to join army.

When Granny Randolph came here there were only three log houses in Kingston one was a French Village where Hay Market is now.

The page is numbered 2 in the top right corner. The text appears to be organized into several lines, possibly representing a list or a series of entries. The handwriting is characteristic of the 18th or 19th century.

Burleigh's walked from Brockville, passed Kingston & there were only a few houses. Went to Quaker settlement in Bath or neighborhood.

Massacre in Catskill mtns of Randolphs 13 killed in one night. Bill Johnson adopted Ada. She watched for him at pigeonhole windows in roof of home at Sacketts Harbor. Used telescope and watched for his signal at the upper gap about 10 miles away. Johnston had children younger than she. Must have been before 1813 that Johnston ran tavern in Kingston.

British attack at Sacketts Harbor came with scows behind Island & dropped horses in shallow water & had men across before Americans knew. Women went into cellar. She & children gathered bullets. Settlement surrounded with clearing & pine stumps were chewed by bullets.

my father married Elizabeth Jane Webb at Parkhill. I have their wedding certificate and their family Bible, with the names and dates of each one in when born in the family Bible as well as my mother's and father's deaths as recorded in the Bible.

This is only a little information till I find out if you or your children are living at Bath, Ant. I received your very kind and interested letter from you Jan. 23 '39.

Grandpa Dr Taylor was 100 years old buried with his wife at Middlethorpe. my daughter Ruth and were out to the grave about two months ago and saw the head stone and their names thereon.

If I hear from you I will get all the information about them as much as I can.

I will mail this letter to day
Dec. 12, 1953.

I hope you get this letter and I will try to get more about the relations of long ago.

Please write

[illegible]

So early in August I set out to do
 a revised family history and then
 holidays ~~came~~ came along and since
 getting back to work the beginning of this month I have not been able to settle down to continue the revision.
 However I am enclosing the first seven pages of this new revision
 and if you are further interested
 I shall be glad to send you a copy
 of the balance as soon as I get it
 completed.

In my copy I did in June I have twelve full pages but with all the additional information I received
 I expect there will be twenty pages
 or more when I complete it. The families are carried down ~~five~~ six generations and in some cases I believe six generations
 from Dr Taylor.

I was greatly helped last winter by locating at the Reference Library the book you mentioned in your letter
 namely "The Medical Profession of Upper Canada", containing the work up of Dr Taylor's life.

I am also enclosing the data
I was able to decipher off Dr. Taylor's tombstone together with several other tombstones of relations buried at Middletown Cemetery, Ryerson Township, Perry County District.

I have copies of several old pictures
including one of Mr. Taylor, Walford
Taylor - mother's father, a family picture
of mother's family taken when she
was about six years of age.

Mother has very little knowledge of her grandmother Taylor's family about all she knows that she was of Pennsylvania Dutch background
she has heard her Aunt Margaret tell her mother (Mrs. Taylor) was frightened by the Indians and had the family urged to go up on the roof of the house for safety. Where
this took place she has no idea of.
She has never heard the story of
her grandmother's father James Randolph
being killed by a falling tree.

I shall look forward to hearing
from you when you have time to write.
I should be happy if any details you might be able to supply me with. Yours sincerely
Ruth Miller

P. 645. Dr. Henry Taylor.

One hundred years old, Jan. 1st, 1890 (Photo in frontispiece)
We are indebted to Dr. F. L. Howland, of Huntville, Ont., who visited him Jan 10th, 1890 for the following interesting sketch of a very remarkable man, who, of all spoken in these pages, was alone a centenarian. His history supplies in many ways a most valuable lesson:
"Dr Taylor is, we believe the oldest medical practitioner in Canada, if not on this continent. He is still hale and hearty, and lives at Burk's Falls, Ont. The personal history of a doctor who has practiced medicine for three-quarters of a century, must prove highly interesting. The subject of this sketch was born at Birmingham, Eng., Jan 1st 1790. His father, Samuel Taylor, M.D., had for many years a lucrative practice at Aylesham Eng., and numbered among his patients Lords Suffield, Stratton, Kensington and the Earl of Oxford. The nineteenth century was ushered in with great rejoicing in England, and Henry Taylor, ten years of age, distinctly remembers dancing on the green with many other juveniles, to the tune of martial music. He was the youngest of a family of three brothers and three sisters. Two of his nephews are ^{the} in practice of medicine in England, one at Aylesham, the other at Bothishall. Henry mixed medicine in his father's surgery, when his height had to be extended by his standing on a stool. For seven years he was apprenticed as a medical student. Then for three years he attended Guys and St Thomas' Hospitals, taking his degree of M.D. when twenty-eight years of age. Dr. Taylor's countenance kindles with intellectual energy, as he proudly, yet reverently, speaks of his surgical tutor, Sir Astley Cooper. Blondil was the leading professor of midwifery. He knew Abernethy well. In manner Abernethy was the antipodes of Sir Astley. The latter was refined in manner, and gentlemanly to a degree. On lecturing, during the course, on a certain luxation of the hip-joint, over which he and Abernethy differed, he always drank an extra amount of wine, and rubbing his hands, "piled" into Abernethy. Dr. Taylor had heard Abernethy use the most vulgar language, and a very nasty and unutterable expression was a favorite expletive. 'He was the most impudent man I ever saw', said Dr. Taylor. On graduation, Dr. Taylor went into partnership with his father at Aylesham, where he remained until June 1839, when he emigrated to Canada, and practiced for a year in Montreal. During the summer season he had a paying practice waiting on English emigrants, but in winter he had little to do, and spent his summer earnings. He therefore determined to leave, and came to Oranston. Here, and in the adjacent villages of Camden, Wilton and Portland he practiced for twenty-six years, sixteen of which were spent in the latter place. He endured all the hardships incident to the practice of medicine in a Canadian pioneer settlement, and never refused to attend a poor patient. He was held in high esteem, socially and professionally. The poverty of his patrons bore hardly on him at times, and more than once his chattels were sold for debts contracted for medical supplies. He did not take out a Canadian diploma, and was once hauled up for practicing without a license, but the validity of his English diploma was maintained, and he was acquitted. For a time he kept three horses hard at work in making his professional calls. In earlier years he frequently travelled on foot, by the aid of a compass, between points where there was not even a foot-path. On one occasion, while waiting on a woman in confinement in a lonely house, a large pack of wolves crossed the door-yard in full cry.

"Dr. Taylor never took an active interest either in municipal or provincial politics. For three years, however, he was master of the Orange Lodge of Portland, while for twelve years he was a member of the Sons of Temperance in Wilton. Rum and whiskey were the common beverage of the people, the former selling at $3\frac{1}{6}$ per gallon, and the latter at 6d per gallon, in Kingston. In 1867 or '68, he removed to the Township of Brook, Lanark County, where he remained a few years but did not practice much. September 25th 1875, he settled in Ryerson Township, Parry Sound District, near to where a son was living. It is astonishing the amount of professional work, travelling for the most part on foot, he has done in Ryerson and vicinity. Today, March 1890, his memory is good, walks without a cane, and shaves himself. About seven years ago the writer met Dr. Taylor in consultation, he having walked that day fourteen miles to meet him. At that time, he frequently walked, in one day, from Ryerson to to Rousseau, a distance of twenty-seven miles, and quite recently, he walked from Ryerson to Burd's Falls and thought nothing of it. He stands 5 ft 11 $\frac{3}{4}$ ins in height, and is nearly up to his average weight of 150 lbs. Until a year ago he could read ordinary print without spectacles, and his hearing is yet very fair. Dr. Taylor has always eaten in moderation of mixed plain food from the animal and vegetable kingdom, but avoided pastries, confectionary and such like. He has ever looked on the bright side of life; never desponded, and has decidedly kept, as he says "a stiff upper lip". He drank moderately of wine and pure liquors in his earlier years, but latterly, for many years, has drank no alcoholic beverage. His wife died twelve years ago, at 58 years of age, and was thirty years his junior.

The following is taken from the Huntsville paper, April 18th 1890:
 "It has fallen to the lot of very few journalists in Canada to record the death of a citizen as old as the late Dr. Henry Taylor, who passed peacefully away to his long home on Thursday, the 3rd inst., at the ripe age of 100 years, 3 months and 3 days. The last days of his life were spent at Burd's Falls with his daughter, Mrs Snyder. He retained a wonderful degree of physical and mental vigour ~~until~~ the end. He was a member of the Methodist Church for over forty years, and was highly respected, both in his profession and ~~private~~ life, by all who knew him. He leaves to mourn his loss, four sons and one daughter, viz: Mrs. Snyder and Welford Taylor of Burd's Falls; Wm. Taylor, of Ryerson; Samuel Taylor in western Ontario, and James Edward Taylor, in Michigan, U. S. A.

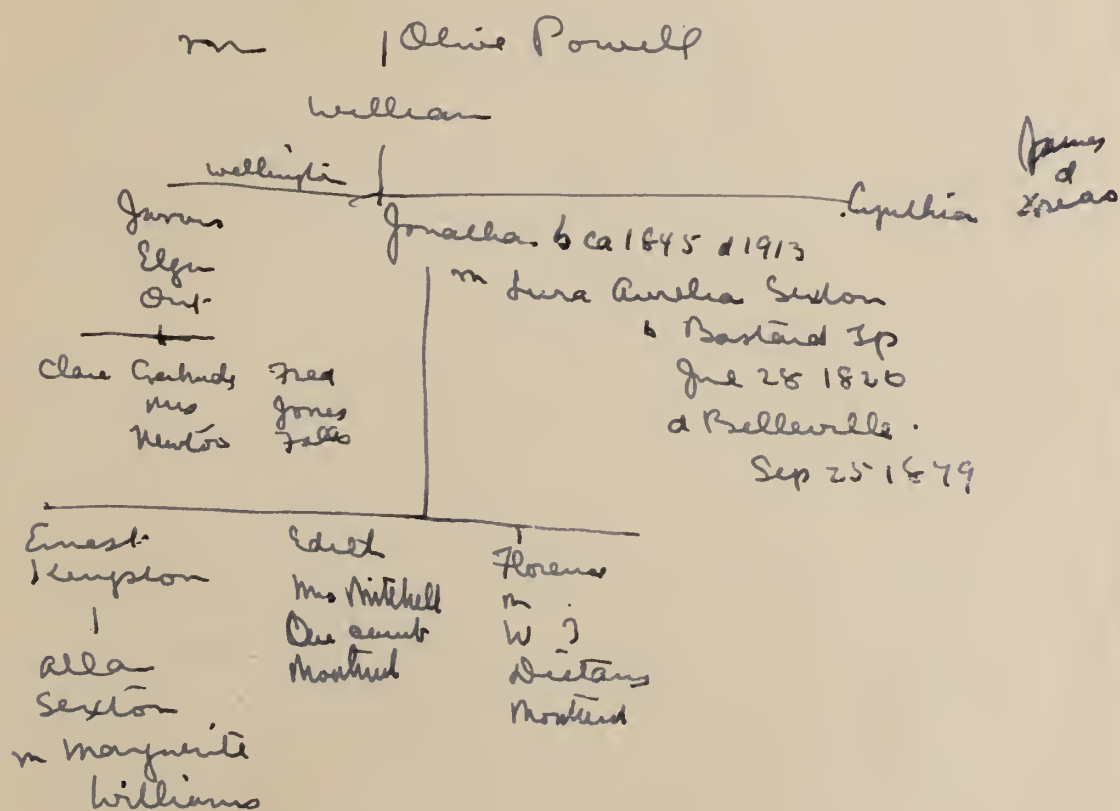

+ Cyrus who had sore hip

Dr. H. C. Barleigh
Bath, Ontario

Dear Dr. Barleigh:
I have been asked by my mother Mrs. Ida Miller of Banks Falls, Ont. to reply to your letter which she received early this month. She finds letter writing rather tedious. I shall try to answer as many of your questions as I can.

Since mother found your letter
written to her in 1940 and the reply you wrote to her last December when she wrote to you I have done a very extensive and detailed research of the Taylor family history. After reading your letters to mother both the old ones and the one written last December I am filled
with great interest and do trust I shall
be able to get additional data regarding
the early families.

In June I undertook to tape a complete set of the families. As far as I have been able to find out only to some degree from a rather distant cousin in Central British Columbia. A great deal more details regarding Aunt Margot's descendants
